

Mockup Review

Hi Ashley, the website is looking really good! Here are some things I noticed about the mockup:

- The names for the page buttons don't seem to be aligned
- I really enjoy the page with the shades of pink! I think the title could be "Shades of Pink" in smaller font
- Also, I think the buttons could be different colors from the background so that they're recognizable as buttons that will take the viewer to different pages.
- I think the font size on the history page could be larger for better readability.
- The leading of the lines in all the pages can be increased for better readability as well.

So far, I am really liking the website! Thank you for being so responsive to my ideas!
